Salt Lake City, UT 84115

NOMINATIONS MUST BE RECEIVED BY NOVEMBER 7, 2008

The Outstanding Educator Award was established in honor of Dr. Calvin W. Taylor who influenced the lives of his students with his energetic and creative approach to instruction. As Dr. Sally Todd wrote, "His theoretical knowledge about how children learn [and] grow, and about their capacity to share their talents with all of us have been [fundamental] in the development of many precepts by which we operate... We will forever be grateful for his work." Cal, as we affectionately called him, was an inspiration to so many, and his work will continue to influence future generations.

The Calvin W. Taylor Outstanding Educator Award is designed to recognize an exemplary Utah educator of gifted and talented youth. This award was established to honor educators who, like Dr. Taylor, greatly impact the lives of their students. Please assist us in recognizing our gifted and talented educators. You are invited to nominate an educator who has made a significant impact in the lives of gifted and talented youth.

Criteria to be considered:

- Nominee possesses the essential characteristics of effective teachers of the gifted and talented youth.
- Nominee has demonstrated exemplary competencies, skills and knowledge needed to work well with gifted and talented youth.
- Nominee has demonstrated superior performance when working with gifted and talented youth.
- Nominee has demonstrated a commitment to the advocacy of gifted and talented youth.
